This page is an area to demonstrate the upgraded potential of the Bang the Table website with the changes introduced in December 2009. It will also provide a resource area for our clients and the public prior to the completion and launch of our corporate site in the New Year.

Golden Rules of Online Participation
edit | delete | unpublish | change image | delete image

Back in September while attending the IAP2 conference in Glasgow I sat down and wrote out 10 golden rules for online engagement for our blog. I thought I would review them this week and don't feel the need to change much so I thought I would reproduce them here.

Of course we are still learning as we go so I will probably revisit these again in a few months to add to or edit the list. Perhaps others would like to join in too?

Here goes:

Step 2: Project Team

Contact your Bang the Table representative to add new people to your project team.
